31st Last Day For Car Insp.

"The semi-annual inspection period for motor vehicles ends on October 31st," warned Col. Francis McCabe, Chief, Maine State Police, today.

"Starting November 1st, state police will be on the lookout for cars which do not carry October inspection stickers," he continued. "Failure to comply with the inspection law makes an individual liable to a fine of not more than $100, or to imprisonment for not more than ninety days, or to both such fine and imprisonment. Don't fail to get that sticker before the first of 'No month'."

Chief McCabe also urged car owners to make certain that they receive a complete and careful inspection.

"Make sure," he cautioned, "that everything is in first class condition. Driving an automobile properly, especially during the winter months which lie ahead of us, requires a high degree of skill, good judgement, sound common sense, and a vehicle that is in the best possible condition."

COMMUNITY ROOM COMMITTEE MEETS

The Community Room Committee met at the Community Room Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. with the following present: Marjorie Freeman, Henry Hastings, Olive Lurvey, Dorothy Christie, Harriet Noyes and representing the PTA were J. Jay Willard, Gertrude Hutchins and Elizabeth Bane.

Report of the last meeting was given. Noted that the purchase of some more chairs has not been completed as yet, also that the project of putting some wooden reinforcements across the large plate glass windows hasn't been done. It is hoped that these will be completed before another meeting.

The Eliza T. Cooper School of Dancing has approached the chairman about the use of the room for this coming season. It was decided that they might use the room for $200 per day, but this will not include janitor services.

It was decided to put a set of rules in a conspicuous place in the room. These rules to apply not only to the Canteens but to all users of the room.

It was decided to purchase at least two cords sawed hardwood and that Marjorie Freeman is to see about some wood from Chadbourne's such as we get each year. Voted to see about a shut-off for the water pipes so that the water and toilet facilities may be available when the room is in use.

The P. T. A. Canteen Committee members were present and we discussed at some length the Canteens, the organization of them, chaperoning, etc. Our group voted to have the rooms available for Canteens and to cooperate all we can with them, the P. T. A. members to have the final say as to when they will be held.

Marjorie Freeman will continue to take the bookings for the room. Harriet Noyes is to see that the rules for room are to be printed and posted in a conspicuous place. Some rules to be:

1. None but responsible adults are to build and tend the fires.
2. No Canteen will be held without at least four chaperons.
3. Each person that books the use of the room is to be responsible for the room at the time for

ALL HAVE JOB IN PROMOTING TRAFFIC SAFETY

"Each of us has a definite and a particular responsibility in the constant struggle to reduce traffic accidents," observes Harold I. Goss, Secretary of State.

M. Goss suggested that each one of us pause for a moment and ask himself this question: "What is my part in the highway safety program?"

"The answer to this question should be crystal clear," he added. "If I am a motorist, it is my duty to obey all traffic regulations always, and to extend courtesy to all others on the road. If I am a pedestrian, I must remember that drivers also have rights. If I am a parent or a teacher, I am morally obliged to impress the need for safety upon the children under my care. This, I must do not once, not twice, but continually, for children forget."

What ever my line of work, I have an opportunity to influence the thinking of others. As a business man, a salesman, a doctor, a factory worker, a lawyer, etc., it is my privilege and my duty to express my self definitely on the subject of highway conduct. I must never underestimate the value of public opinion, and I should remember that I can help to form that opinion.

When each of us realizes that he has an important part to play, and when each individual as a citizen, a taxpayer, a voter, etc., is aware of the danger to himself and to others of the present danger of the highway.

Each person booking the use of the room is responsible for their own fire.

Each user is to dispose of their own rubbish and waste of any sort as we do not have any janitor service.

Each user is to make sure that the lights and fire are out, water turned off, etc., when they leave the room.

The Committee to add such rules as they feel are for the good of the room.

BETHEL SKI CLUB TO HOLD DANCE

The Bethel Ski Club has voted to sponsor a "Come As You Are Dance" in the William Bingham Gym on Friday night, November 28 (the night after Thanksgiving). In addition to heralding the start of the skiing season, the club also needs to raise additional funds. As most people know, the ski tow is not a money making proposition but is run to give added recreational facilities to the town of Bethel. Since the tow rates are not much lower than comparative tow, some additional source of revenue must be found. By holding a dance and selling some of several items of ski equipment, the club hopes to raise money to pay some of the outstanding bills. Complete plans for the dance and a list of items to be sold will be given next week.

M. E. C. MEET

The M. E. C. met at Fern Junction Wednesday night. It was decided to sponsor a Thanksgiving dinner for the old and poor. The committee is working to obtain the best possible food and to have the dinner served at 5:00 P. M. for the purpose of serving the old and poor.

The type of meeting to be held and future projects were discussed. It was voted to have dues of $5 at each monthly meeting.

Following the meeting there was a lunch and social period. The next meeting will be held at Lavinia Bartlett's Monday night, Nov. 10, at 7:30 o'clock. A "waste" lunch is planned. All Rebekahs are cordially invited to attend.

Our country is BEAUTIFUL

Yes, there's plenty of ugliness, too—but only in man-made things that can be changed. And we will change them—to match the vast and varied beauty of the land, and the great vision of the pioneers who saw it first and started building on it the freedom that we know will always be free.

How To Waste $8 Billion

In John 8:12 Jesus said: "Gather up the fragments that remain, for nothing is lost." New Testament teaching shows that in the Bible, as in all human affairs, waste is considered immoral. The law of nature says "Waste not, want not."

We will continue to have waste in our government as long as we have the waste tax and spend money in the same way. The waste tax is a tax on the waste of money. It is a tax on the waste of money. It is a tax on the waste of money.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Learn the Power of Relaxation

ABOUT THREE YEARS ago Carl Goodwin, Bay Village, Ohio, began to think he was through. Long hours of work on a technical project and poor working habits had carried him to the very limit of his physical and nervous endurance. His weight dropped to 135 pounds. He had frequent sick colds and was constantly plagued with nervous headaches. Worst of all, however, was the overpowering fatigue which made even the slightest task an effort. He was doing a half day's work. He knew it and the boss knew it. And it worried him.

The matter came to a climax when his doctor advised him to take a leave of absence. This he did but the time off only served as another source of worry. He knew that the "powers" would take cognizance of the state of his health when promotion time came around.

What did he do about it? He learned to relax—that was all. He learned some of the secrets of true relaxation so that he can sit at a desk without wrapping his legs all around the chair. Moreover he arranged to rest for an hour or two before going out socially. And just lately he has been trying to put enthusiasm to work, and he says that it promises to be one of the biggest factors in beating fatigue.

Today he does more with less effort than ever before. He is convinced that it is not the volume of work that kills a fellow, but rather his approach to it, for he is in better shape than he ever was. A number of things have helped him. For one thing he is 15 pounds heavier, and far, far happier for having learned the power of relaxation.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

By WALTER BREAD
THERE NEVER has been, nor will there probably ever be again, another such presidential campaign as that which is now being waged in the American people.

What started out to be a presidential campaign on a high plane, between two great Americans, Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and General Dwight D. Eisenhower, has degenerated into a campaign of "Who are you going to believe?"

The whole thing of President Truman and the backbreaking struggle of the two candidates during the last month before November 4 will have the voters so confused by voting time that this election will be a farce.

The whole thing of President Truman and the backbreaking struggle of the two candidates during the last month before November 4 will have the voters so confused by voting time that this election will be a farce.

--AND NOW, IF YOU DO NOT VOTE YOU SHOULD NOT CRAB IF THE NEW ADMINISTRATION DOES NOT PLEASE YOU!

ALMOST 50 MILLION INDIFFERENT VOTERS

ACROSS the DESK

From The Tri-County Truth, Churubusco, Ind.:
It is a heartening sign in the election campaign so far to see both General Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson refuse in most cases to yield to the demands of pressure groups. For both refuse to bow to excessive demands, the bargaining power of such groups will become known for what it really is: A fiction under the bed and nothing more!

From The Central Iowa Journal, Gilman, Iowa:
We lost a key employee this week . . . Glenn Kramer, who has been handling advertising in the smaller towns and has been an all-around hand in the shop, returned to his home in California. . . . Glenn is also a preacher for the church of Christ . . . He and his Iowa-born wife, the former Janice Renner of Ferguson, came to Iowa this summer to await the arrival of their second child . . . His absence is surely felt around the shop . . . Oh, Glenn, won't you please come back to Iowa.

From The Twin Valley News, Alexandria, Ohio:
From what we hear there are to be two or three very interesting and enjoyable entertainments put on at the Roller Rink in the near future—Square dancing on skates?—Now that is something we want to see.

From The Reese River Revue, Austin, Nev.:
Well now, there's something cockeyed somewhere. Not until the announcements of the big homecoming in Ely for Mrs. Richard Nixon did a great many of us realize just what we have supporting the candidate for the second place on the Republican ticket.

Pat Ryan Nixon, it now develops, was born in our neighboring community of Ely March 17, 1913. And on top of all that, judging from her pictures, she is a lady who would grace any official or social gathering where she might be placed.

From The Broadlands, Ill. News:
Everyone should supply himself with this newest creation—snake-proof trousers. It seems that these trousers are lined with woven metal which prevents a snake's fangs from reaching the flesh. Now, what puzzles us, when or where should there trousers be worn, and in the next place, what would you be doing in such a place in the first place?

Things One Remembers
by R. M. Hofer
Manufacturers of soft and hard bottled drinks could perform a public service and make many friends for themselves by one simple little act.

Anyone who drives the highways today has seen the shoulders of roads littered with bottles. Manufacturers of these products could stick a label on each bottle and a message in each, warning drinkers of the danger to life and limb caused by throwing their "empties" on the highway.

Of course, it is against the law of Maine's 16 counties.

Our country is UNITED

Of course we don't agree on everything—never have—never will—and wouldn't like it if we did . . . except about one thing—our right to disagree, and say so loudly. Fools—and enemies—sometimes think those loud sounds mean we are not united . . . but we know our basic unity is there, as strong as the day our name was chosen—actually stronger, because now there are so many more of us agreeing on that one important thing.

Thursday, October 30

Humble yourselves... under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you. (1 Peter 5: 6, 7) Read II Corinthians 8: 1-7.

USUALLY each day our cares are many: the cares of home and children, of the church, the community, the nation, and the hard international conditions; the financial problems, such as, debts, the inability to make both ends meet, poor health, old age, and the daily uncertainty of life.

We need not bear these alone. We can bring them all to the great Burden-Bearer, Christ Himself. He has said to us, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

One burden, however, we often keep—self. Self is the cause of most of our cares. Self must be laid down, for the promise is: "He careth for you." How do we do this? Much like a little child, who is tired from carrying something which has been above his strength. He simply drops it and nestles in his loving mother's arms. If thus we bring ourselves to Christ, we rest in His love and know the joy and happiness of contentment and peace.

Prayer

Heavenly Father, we come to Thee with all our cares and burdens and self. We seek of Thee rest and strength. Grant us the comfort and joy of Thy fatherly love. In Jesus' name we ask it. Amen.

Whom God Hath Joined

By REBECCA OSBORN

"I'm leaving him," she said, sweeping a long strand of grey hair from her forehead with the back of her wrist.

The Reverend, Mr. Dicer, sitting near her on the front porch of the farm house, reached up to straighten his collar, a habit he carried over from pre-seminary days. It was a useless one now that he wore a stiff clerical collar.

"Now, Mrs. Flounders," he began, slowly, "think it over. Think of your years together."

"Years together—humpf! They'd have been better spent apart."

"Think of your children and how hard you and Martin worked to bring them up to be God-fearing men and women."

Mabel Flounders crossed her arms firmly in her lap.

"That's just it. Work—hard work—day and night."

Mr. Dicer thought a moment. What could you say to a woman who was about to leave her husband after 24 years of married life? He looked squarely into her eyes.

"Martin loves you," he said. Mabel stood up and started for the door.

The Reverend, Mr. Dicer, got up. He took her arm.

"Wait a minute, Mabel. Have you thought of what Martin will do without you? Who'll cook for him all winter?"

She pulled her arm away. "But what will he eat? It's just the beginning of canning season. If you leave him now, he won't have anything on hand this winter."

"I don't care."

"Look, Mabel, look at those apples—all these beautiful apples. We've had a wonderful season."

Who is there among you callous and selfish enough to admit that you would feed upon war, and seek an inflated economy resulting from blood, suffering and death? Who among you would trade the blood of your sons and daughters on the battlefield for higher priced cotton?—Thos. Amerson, Texas, Tribune.

Say you saw it in THE CITIZEN.

haven't we? Can't remember apples like those since I was a boy."

"Why don't you put some up for him before you leave? Just a few jars of applesauce, say. Something your husband won't have to cook for himself this winter."

He saw that she was listening. "Won't you do that, Mabel, in memory of those 24 years?"

"I suppose I could."

"You'll never be sorry."

"No," she said, "I'll never be sorry."

As he walked across the lawn to the road where his car was parked Mr. Dicer smiled. It had come to him all at once, Mabel Flounders was a hard worker. Let her start on the canning and she'd want to see it through. And by the time she finished they'd have made up. He was sure of that.

Two months later Mr. Dicer guided his old car through the rut of the narrow road that led to Martin Flounders' farm. They'd had several frosts.

He parked his car and got out. As he went around to the back of the house he saw her. Mabel Flounders was coming out the back door with a basket of wet wash.

"Good morning, Mabel," he called out.

"Morning, Reverend," she said. She was silent for a moment, then she reflected, "I'm still here."

"I see."

"It was that applesauce done it."

"Yeah," she went on, "Martin hates applesauce. Says it's baby food. I only did it to spite him."

"And then you regretted what you did?"

"O. no. That wasn't it. But after all that work I couldn't stand to see the applesauce go to waste."

The newly crowned A. D. A. group is trying to sell their candidate on the grounds that he is an "average" person and uses an excellent choice of words in his public addresses. If this group really wants a man to run for country whose chief claim to distinction is his literacy, then surely they could find a much more suitable candidate in a man such as President Conant of Harvard.

If they really want an orator to govern our country, they might well choose former Governor Cury of Massachusetts, one of the best orators in the nation. If they feel that a comedian is best qualified to deal with the vital problems of our nation in the critical days ahead, we suggest such experts as Milton Berle or Red Skelton. —Wellesley, Massachusetts, Townsman.

Dale's Gulf Station

I think that this week is the time to forget my product as far as advertising goes and to plead with anyone that is foolish enough to look at this ad to go to the polls and to vote in this election.

Contrary to some people's thoughts, I am not campaigning for any political party. I do have my firm convictions and am not at all hesitant in voicing them.

It does seem to me to be a crying shame that people are throwing their one free privilege away. Just think, if I were giving gasoline or oil away, I'll bet that I would be swamped with customers but these same people throw away the most valuable heritage that they have and that is the right to vote as they please.

I have heard a lot of people curse the democratic administration and I can remember hearing others curse the republican administration. I have just one answer to give these people that curse the administrations that they are opposed to and that answer is that if the people that are doing the cursing had worked hard enough to vote and to get their neighbors to do the same, they would not have had to suffer under an adverse administration.

Just think, less than 50% of the eligible voters voted in the last presidential election. What do you think that the boys that are over in Korea would think if that happened in this election? Those boys are protecting that same right that we the American people are throwing away.

I believe that old Pat Henry, who used to say something once in a while back in the early days of this republic, had something on the ball when he faced an adversary in debate in congress and made this statement, "I may not agree with what you may say but, I will defend unto death your right to say it."

Please consider seriously the issues that are presented by both parties or men and their vote for the man that you firmly believe has the best program to insure the life and health of these United States of America. Remember, if you do not vote, that is what the opposition wants as that makes one less vote for them to overcome.

Too many people call voting a duty and to me that is the biggest sin that has ever been mouthed by a human being. Voting to me is a privilege and, I believe, should be considered so by any clear thinking American.

Regardless of race, creed or color, do yourself a favor and vote.

I guess that I have been on the soap box long enough so I shall sign off with this reminder. If you use your car to take you to the polls, be sure and get "that good Gulf Gasoline" to that you will get there before they close.

How Can I Avoid Ostentation?
Lesson for Matthew 6: 1-8, 16-18.
Golden Text: Matthew 6: 6.

OSTENTATION is a great enemy of vital piety and of a wholesome influence of the over others. Jesus condemns ostentation in giving, praying, fasting, and in all living.

An old minister told of a man in a large city who had succeeded in his business, and was well off to go to the city of his birth to the family estate. And he did give a very large gift, if not when the opportunity came on a great occasion, when many would be and he would.

Some, like the Pharisee, are proud of their giving. The old story of the man who, according to a Boston newspaper, made the most eloquent prayer ever delivered before a Boston audience and the allusion was to an officer.

A. NEWS LETTER

While in active service for 31 days or more after April 25, 1951, who are insured under National Life Insurance or U. S. Government Life Insurance term policies, may apply while in active service for waiver of all premiums and keep life insurance in force, according to M. L. Stoddard, manager of the A. Center, Togus.

Under the waiver, Stoddard said, premiums falling due will be waived for the duration of the person's active service and for 120 days after separation or release from active duty. To keep such policies in force thereafter, veterans must resume full premium payments.

Any such term policy that expires while it is under waiver and the insured is on active duty will be automatically renewed for another five-year term, Stoddard stated. Veterans with this type of policy must begin payment of the other premium for their automatically-renewed policies within 120 days after their separation or release from active service.

In the cases of those GTS who do not apply for waiver of premiums on their NGLI or USGLI contracts, and whose policies expired while they were in active service after April 25, 1951, VA can cut them the right to apply for life insurance in the same amount of time as the expired policy. These veterans must apply to VA within 120 days after separation or release from active service; submit evidence of good health through a medical examination and pay the required premiums when due.

TAX TEST ANSWERS

1. In these days of casual mention of billions of dollars it is surprising that all the gold is worth only this amount. That's only a fraction of what the government plans to spend in the current fiscal year.

2. The higher figure is right. This is the highest cost of operating government for any in the history of the country.

3. The 21 percent in 1950, amounting to over $25,000,000,000. The federal government pays no taxes on its land.

4. All three are correct and the fact of Agriculture spent $100,000,000 of the taxpayers' money in a survey to find out.

MAINE LAD NAMED FFA "AMERICAN FARMER"

Malcolm P. Egan, of Ashland, was one of four New Englanders who received the "American Farmer" degree at the national convention of Future Farmers of America in Kansas City, Missouri. This is the highest FFA degree and William McKinley of Hinchey was Maine's official delegate to the conference.

Also, what's the annual interest charged on such loans? A veteran may borrow up to 50 per cent of the reserve value of his policy. If the policy has been in force for a year or more. The interest rate is four percent per year.

GOULD ACADEMY

GOULD AND BERLIN TIE

A battered Gould Academy team came back from Berlin last Saturday still maintaining an undefeated record but they had to settle for a tie with the Mountaineers. Captain Erwin Bacon and Herbert Adams saw no action as they were on the injured list and Frank Linnell suffered a dislocated shoulder early in the first quarter which kept him out for the remainder of the game. Numerous other injuries had men sidelined for portions of the game.

Both teams produced defenses that had the offense well under control. Neither team got beyond the opponents' 30 yard line. The great portion of the playing was done at midfield.

This Saturday the Huskies travel to Wilton where they meet the Academy eleven in the last game away for Gould. The final action will take place with Fryeburg Academy meeting the "Blue and Gold" at Bethel on November 8.

Summary:

EXTENSION MEMBERSHIP DUES ARE DUE

This is the time to join your county Extension Association for the coming year, points out Richard C. Dolloff, of Orono, secretary of the Maine Extension Association. Current members may renew their memberships by paying their dues of one or two dollars to their membership chairman or to the county Extension Association offices. New membership may contact the same people. More than 21,000 men and women joined the Extension Association in Maine for 1952.

ECONOMY

In Roosevelt's first Presidential campaign, in 1932, he said that he would reduce the cost of the Federal government by 25 per cent. How well did he keep that promise?

Now, in 1952, we have Stevenson saying that he would keep Federal spending down to the "bare bone."

Is history repeating itself. —James Emery Brooks, in the Montclair, New Jersey, Times.

'THE AMERICAN WAY' I Like Ike

by George
Peck

George Peck
(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

Tuesday, November 4, is Decision Day. The deluge of campaign oratory will be ended and American citizens will flock to the polls (it is hoped in unprecedented numbers) to express their preferences. Numbered among these citizens will be your humble scribe, exercising his voting franchise, but not exercising his privilege to keep secret the names of those for whom he votes.

First, I would like to state that when granted the right to vote, I joined hands with Democratic Party, worked and voted for Democratic candidates and was quite happy about that political affiliation for many a year. But that party is no longer the great Democratic Party which won my first allegiance and enthusiastic support. It has been captured by a group of so-called liberals who use it as an instrument to completely socialize our American economy.

The time has come for every American citizen to put country above party. Following the lead of a great Democrat and patriotic American—former U. S. Representative, former U. S. Senator, former Associate Justice U. S. Supreme Court, former Economic Stabilizer, former Secretary of State and currently Governor of South Carolina—James F. Byrnes, I announce that I, too, propose to place country above party and that I will vote for General Eisenhower.

As have millions of my fellow Americans, I have listened to the barrage of oratory which has come to us in recent weeks over radio and video, and out of the welter of conflicting statements, opinions and promises made by candidates of both major parties, have reached the following conclusions:

Re Korea—Still confused as to whether we should have embarked on this "Police Action" I believe that having done so, we should bring it to a victorious conclusion. General Eisenhower, with his long successful military career, seems to be the logical choice to end the Korean fiasco, with dispatch and at a minimum cost of lives and money.

Re Taft-Hartley—Governor Stevenson has declared for complete repeal of this law. General Eisenhower has declared for its retention with certain amendments. Both Mr. Taft and ex-Sen. Hartley, two authors of the law, reportedly have stated that certain amendments in order, but that the provisions protecting workers from abuse by their employer or labor union must be retained. In my humble opinion, the law is a "Bill of Rights" for labor and its main provisions should be retained. I strongly advise with Mr. Taft on this law.

Re Free Enterprise—Governor Stevenson has stated that the development of electrical power should be left to private interests, except where they cannot cope with the situation. On the other hand, the General has suggested a partnership of federal government, state government and private interests where private interests are not able to handle the job alone. As between the two on this particular issue, my vote goes to Ike.

Re the Washington Mess—Governor Stevenson recognizes the corruption at Washington and has promised to clean it up. In this I agree he is sincere. The Governor knows what has transpired and is going on at Washington. But I doubt that he could do the job. He has his nomination to individuals within his party, upon whom, if elected, he could not entirely turn his back.

As a case in point, Governor Stevenson was opposed to President Truman participating in his campaign. But owing his nomination to at least in part to the "Missouri Mauler," he withdrew his opposition. The Governor is above all a gentleman and how he must inwardly wince at the gutter-snipe campaign Harry is conducting on his behalf.

As President Truman has expressed his determination to end after out of office, his fight for a "Welfare State" it is too much to hope that, if elected, the General will not continue to harass and plague Adlai Stevenson.

On the other hand, General Eisenhower can handle the job with a free hand. He really can turn the rascals out. A Republican Senator expressed the case must apply when he said "Regarding the mess at Washington, the election of Mr. Stevenson to succeed Mr. Truman would be like leaving the soiled diaper on the baby and just changing the safety pin."

And so, as the candidate most likely to clean up the mess at

WEST PARIS

Genevra Tuell, Corres.

The American Legion and Auxiliary held a public supper at Legion Hall Friday evening under the direction of Mrs. Harold Hollis.

The Junior Class of West Paris High School present two tone acts plays on October 28 at 8 o'clock in the school gymnasium which received many compliments. The Doctor starring Miss Margaret Perham, Dolores Duchene, Kay Ward, Connie Swift, Eleanor Peterson, Margaret Farr, "The Best Thanks" under the acting ability of Thelma Heath, Irene Miller, Constance Swift, Russell Wright, Richard Brett Arthur Dean, Nancy Benson, Miss Kera Chaplin, class advisor, directed the plays.

The auction held Saturday afternoon under the direction of the men of the church at Bethel. The barn was successful. Their next auction will be held in warm weather.

Mrs. Eva Sloan spent last week with relatives in Massachusetts. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Arline Sloan, of Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bond and Martha are moving from Association Block to Miss Agnes Gray's downstairs room.

Maynard T. Chase is a patient at the Veterans Hospital, Togus. He expects to undergo surgery very soon.

Mrs. Wilma Follen and Mrs. Helen Follen are receiving a visit from their granddaughters and daughter, Miss Rosalie Follen, R. V. from Bethel Hospital for being Miss Follen of Lewiston, Maine.

Mrs. Follen and her family are for internment in the family lot at Pleasant Valley cemetery. Quite a number of people came with the funeral including the Rev. Charles McIntyre from Bethel and Adlai of Henry Stone.

Franklin and Eugene Follen were home from Kent's Hill over the week end.

Mrs. Allen Belmont has given up her rent in Agnes Gray's room and gone to Mechanic Falls where she has employment as a housekeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Curtis and Mrs. Charles Curtis visited relatives in Gorham N. H. Sunday.

Mrs. Abbie Abbott has been suffering from a bad cold but is somewhat improved.

At the Universal Church Sunday morning Rev. E. W. Leighton ministered before at 10:30 Church School at 9:30. Youth Fellowship.

Washington, my vote goes to Ike. The Communist infiltration into the Executive and the General is firmly convinced, would put forth their best efforts to ferret out and punish any Communists or Communist sympathizers who have sneaked onto the public payroll. But here again, the General would be in a more strategic position to do this essential job of ridding our government of traitors and spies. My vote on this score therefore goes to Ike.

There are a few reasons why I LIKE IKE.

GOV. PAYNE DESIGNATES

NOV. 9-15 "EDUCATION WEEK"
Governor Payne on Tuesday designated November 9 to 15 as "American Education Week."

"The story of the State of Maine is written in the lives of the children in our schools. If our public schools are to serve today's children effectively, they must be equipped with teachers, materials and financial resources sufficient to meet their needs. Enrollments are increasing yearly in almost every town and city in Maine, creating a constant demand for more and more class rooms and teachers."

"If our schools are going to offer instruction in all 6-R's not only reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic but also rights, responsibilities and human relations—we must have good teachers who love and understand children; teachers who have the time, tools and space necessary to do a good job. All these things we must pay for but we cannot afford to economize too stringently when the future welfare of our boys and girls is at stake."

The problems of today's schools are the problems of all who work to hold the line for freedom and to build a better America and a better world.

"American Education is a good cause in which to review the history, purposes and achievements of our schools; consider their needs and problems; emphasize their role in national security, and strengthen them."

"I therefore urge each and every citizen of Maine to take an active interest in our schools," said Governor Payne.

HARRY'S "WHIFFLE-STOP" TOUR

In the light of Harry's complete change of heart about the recent campaign tour he called a "whiffle-stop" tour. Whiffle, according to our dictionary, means to change from one opinion or course to another, to be evasive.

President Truman has been giving us a first-class display of whiffle. His current trip has found him shuffling at every whiffle-stop, and he is proving himself to be without peer as America's whiffle whiffer.

And the point is that the time spent in whiffle is being whiffled at public expense. Hated Harry's Whiffle-Stop.

Brownies

Troop 2 Brownies met Wednesday afternoon with their leaders, Mrs. George Parsons, Mrs. Dana Douglas Jr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman. The girls observed Founders Day which is Oct. 31, the birthday of Juliette Low, the founder of Girl Scouting in the United States of America. Donna Rice presented the group with a beautiful birthday cake for this occasion. All members joined in a silent prayer in memory of Juliette Low.

Our Halloween Party then got underway as each girl appeared in costume to have pictures taken. "Queen Tell-All" from "Goblin Pass" arrived, but was unable to see into her crystal ball, due to the snowstorm. But she did tell our fortunes. According to the Queen, our Brownie Troop seems to have a lot of fun in store for them. Believing no Halloween party complete without ghost stories we were delighted when Mrs. Charles Freeman volunteered to tell us a few. Refreshments were then served by Donna Rice, Lorenda Freeman, Christine Baker and Janet Cragin. The Prize Box was most empty when the girls left as every girl won a prize for her costume, a game or a jack-o-lantern.

Brownie Troop IV with their leaders Mrs. Rodney Eames and Mrs. Charles Keoskio met at "Nearby" following their meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 29.

As they entered the dining room they were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. "Dopey" (Vivian Brown and Bill Eames) who escorted them to a beautifully decorated table in keeping with Halloween. The Brownies, eighteen in number, certainly did justice to a delicious supper served by Mrs. Alfred Brown, Beatrice Brown and Julia Brown. A feature of the party was a Jack-o-Lantern cake and later made by Mrs. Brown. After the supper games were played in charge of their leaders. A grand time was enjoyed by all.

Those present were: Diana Bennett, Susan Boynton, Beth Ann Brown, Julia Brown, Marie Corey, Claudia DeMonte, Cheryl Douglas, Bonnie Eames, Carol Keoskio, Penny Knowles, Evelyn Mundt, Sheila Roberts, Evelyn Sprague, Nancy Saunders, Elizabeth Waldron, Bonnie Whitman, Carolyn Wilcox, Sharon York.

Remember that—less than five times as old as you, if you are 40! No other nation has grown so fast, so fabulously. Sure we have made mistakes—done some things badly—and left many undone. But we know the total of all of them is small and unimportant—compared to what we have done—and have now—and will do.
